The screenshot shows the Khan Academy website interface. At the top, the logo reads "Khan Academy" with the tagline "Over 2,700 lessons delivered". The navigation menu includes "WATCH", "PRACTICE", "COACH", "VOLUNTEER", and "ABOUT". A search bar is located in the top right. The main content area features a video player titled "Basic Trigonometry" by Khan Academy. The video frame shows a hand-drawn diagram of a right-angled triangle with a hypotenuse of length 5, a vertical side of length 3, and a horizontal side of length 4. The angle between the hypotenuse and the horizontal side is labeled "right angle = 90°". Below the diagram, the Pythagorean theorem is written as $a^2 + b^2 = c^2$. To the right of the video player, there is a section titled "Watch, Practice. Learn almost anything for free." with a sub-header "With a library of over 2,700 videos covering everything from arithmetic to physics, finance, and history and 240 practice exercises, we're on a mission to help you learn what you want, when you want, at your own pace." Below this text are two prominent buttons: "Watch a video" (green) and "Practice with an exercise" (dark blue). There are also social media sharing options for Like (50k), Send, Tweet (4,791), and Cite. At the bottom of the page, there is a "New & Noteworthy" section with a horizontal carousel of video thumbnails. The Windows taskbar at the bottom shows the system clock as 6:57 PM on 11/24/2011.
